CLEAN-UP HONORS GO TO LEE STREET SCHOOL

Receives First Prize of $25 From Chamber of Commerce Committee

The chamber of commerce committee appointed to award prizes to the schools securing the greatest number of pledges for clean-up day on April 18 met Tuesday afternoon and made the awards.

The first prize of $25 in the white schools went to the Lee Street school, in which 870 pupils secured 40,406 pledges, an average of 47.

The Davis Street school received the second prize of $15, 404 pupils securing 13,474 pledges, an average of 34, and the third prize, $10, went to the Formwalt school, 412 of its pupils securing 3,820 pledges, an average of 9.

In the colored schools, the Roach Street school won the first prize of $25, 431 pupils securing 24,554 pledges, an average of 57. The second prize $15, was awarded to the Gray Street school, 434 pupils securing 27,783 pledges, an average of 64, and the third prize, $10, went to the Mitchell Street school, 421 pupils securing 25,324, an average of 61.

The committee, which made the awards was composed of E. H. Goodhart, L. D. Hicks and J. H. Lewis. The City Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin is president, is behind the annual clean-up day movement.

HIGHTOWER IS ELECTED ACCORDING TO RECOUNT

Figures Returned by Election Managers Reversed by Subcommittee's Check

T. J. Hightower, Jr., is elected county commissioner according to the recount of his and Charles G. Turner's votes by the sub-committee of the Fulton county democratic executive committee.

The recount, which was finished late Tuesday afternoon, gives Mr. Hightower a total of 4,231 votes and Mr. Turner a total of 4,191 votes.

The election managers' total of 4,241 votes. Thus the recount reverses the election managers' figures.

The difference between the recount and the election managers' returns is accounted for by the fact that the sub-committee enforced more strictly than the election managers the rules regarding the manner in which the ballots should be prepared. Strict enforcement of the rule cost both candidates votes, with the loss of 10 votes by Mr. Turner and 10 votes by Mr. Hightower.

Something over thirty votes of this kind were protested by Mr. Turner during the progress of the recount, his contention being that the election managers had not counted the votes of the sub-committee should not count them for him, and his contention with reference to the others being that the sub-committee should not count them for Mr. Hightower. Mr. Turner will take his protest to the executive committee, if the executive committee declines to count the votes of the sub-committee. It is likely to be reversed and Turner declared the recount of 90 primary. If the committee turns down his protest, then the recount will be adopted and Hightower declared the nominee.

The executive committee probably will meet Saturday to receive the sub-committee's report.

"DIP" SUBSTITUTES PAPER FOR BIG ROLL OF BILLS

Victim Doesn't Discover Pick-pocket's Clever Ruse Until Next Morning

Expert work by a pickpocket cost J. B. Courtney, 11 West Peachtree place, $10 in cash Tuesday night. Courtney did not know the money was gone until he awoke this morning. He found a wad of folded papers out of his pocket instead of the wad of bills.

Courtney, a salesman at Fielder & Allen's, says he felt the wad of bills and his trousers pocket before going to bed, but in the morning this wad was found to be a wad of folded papers.

Courtney thinks the paper was substituted for the bills near Fifth Avenue.

The executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement adopted resolutions Tuesday night at the city hall to decline the offer of the chair of theology at the University of the South to continue his work in Atlanta.

The resolutions declared that the "clear and consecrated work" of Dr. Wilmer has been of invaluable aid to the committee and that the field grows broader and greater for him each day in Atlanta.

CONVICTS ARE INCREASED ON EXTENSION OF SEWER

Fourth and Eighth Ward Citizens Get What They Want, Following Mass Meeting

Citizens of the Fourth and Eighth wards who attended a meeting Tuesday night at the North Avenue school and demanded that the county board increase the force of convicts on the extension of the Highland avenue and Buttrick street sewers, were in quite a different humor Wednesday from that which prompted the call for the meeting.

And the reason, as they explained, was that the convicts increased from twenty-five Tuesday night to seventy-five Wednesday morning. With this large force they feel confident that the construction of the sewers will go forward rapidly, provided the force is not cut down again.

What the citizens now want, and what they hope to get notwithstanding the rather depleted status of the city's finances, is an additional appropriation by the city of $27,000 to buy the additional material needed to finish the work. The city and county are building the sewers jointly, the city furnishing the material and the county furnishing the labor.

County Commissioner W. Tom Winn and W. A. Hunsell, Jr., the newly elected superintendent of the county public works department, attended the meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Winn assured the citizens that he is in full sympathy with their demands and he said he believed the county board would hereafter give preference to this work on account of the nuisance arising from the open sewers.

A committee was appointed to see that the county board does not again reduce the convict force.

DESIRE TO DODGE TAX GIVES ALBANIA TROUBLE

ROME, May 27.—One of the chief reasons for the trouble in Albania is the unwillingness of its citizens to pay taxes, according to the Marquis D'Isola, Italian foreign minister, in answering questions in the chamber of deputies yesterday. The Marquis said Italy and Austria would do everything in their power to prevent armed intervention in Albania.

DAVIS STREET SCHOOL PUPILS HOLD A PARADE OF THEIR OWN

SOME STANDARD BEARERS IN TUESDAY'S PROCESSION.

Field Day Began With Procession Showing Interests of School and Boosting Efforts for New Building

"Votes for Women" advocated one of the standards carried overhead Tuesday by a chubby little school miss in the procession of Davis street school's 400 pupils.

"If Our Mothers Could Vote, We'd Have a New School," another proclaimed.

Other standards led the sections of the parade. Each raised the slogan of some particular line in the schools work. The efforts found continued for work. The efforts found continued for work.

School" asked one standard. And "We Asked Council for $15,000 and They Gave Us $500," declared another. The school gardeners were represented in the procession, and so too were the "B. I. E. club" members, composed of the brightest students.

The procession started at the building and wound through the grounds of the school property and Mims Park adjoining. As they marched the children sang, to the tune of "John Brown's Body," an original composition one verse of which was as follows:

"We're only children now, but we're going to vote some day.

"We will try to rule Atlanta in a better, wiser way.

"Just watch us 20 years from now and you will surely say

"That we've been marching on."

The occasion was the field day of Davis street school. The program continued with drills and contests; there being 13 distinct numbers on it. It started with inspection of the grounds, building and flower and vegetable gardens, continued with the procession, and went on through 11 other numbers.

BAPTISTS TO HAVE DAY OF FASTING THURSDAY

All Interested in Religious Campaign Asked to Spend Day in Earnest Prayer

Thursday will be a day of fasting and prayer for those interested in the Baptist religious campaign. All the members of all the Baptist churches of Atlanta, and any other Christians in the city who will have been asked to join by Dr. Weston Bruner, leader of the campaign, to abstain from food for that day, and spend it in earnest prayer for the salvation of those who have not been reached by the Christian workers thus far in the series of meetings.

The central meeting place for those who take part in the fast will be the First Baptist church. A. A. Hunsell, Jr., and the services and prayers will be led by the pastor, Dr. Bruner.

The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, when services will be held at the various churches. At 1:15 the personal workers' conference will be held and led by Dr. Bruner. Plans for making this department more effective will be discussed.

After the reports from the various churches have been heard, and prayers have been offered, Evangelist A. A. Scott will take charge. He will be followed by Henry Miller. Then will be a half hour devoted to the pastors of the various churches, no set program for which has been made out, but which will be conducted as they see fit. Another of these periods will begin at 10 o'clock.

At 12 o'clock Evangelist U. S. Thomas will take charge for half an hour. He will be followed by W. P. Fletcher.

At 1:30 o'clock Evangelist W. M. Anderson will address the meeting, and he will be followed by J. H. Dew and Dr. Bryant. The periods devoted to the various evangelists will be taken up by sermons, but will be used in any other way that the workers see fit.

It is planned to have experience meetings, and periods of communion among the workers present, as well as prayer and song services.

The modern dances were condemned by Evangelist T. O. Reese at the Gordon street church Tuesday night. The evangelist declared that the dance is the worst sin of the age. Its popularity is due, according to him, to the sex appeal, and without it no one would dance. This is productive of various evils. A familiarity between the two sexes is permitted in the dance, according to the dance, which will be permitted nowhere else and this cannot help but be harmful.

"A Thing Apart"

Yes, "love is a man a thing apart," and woman had better be ready to take the idea. If it were not so, how could he be the alert business success, the ample provider for the home, that he is? Yet woman expects all of this of him. We cannot eat our cake and have it, too. The man who was always a lover would be a business failure.

SUICIDE'S WIDOW SUES CITY FOR BIG DAMAGES

Mrs. Fudge Asks $20,000 for Death of Husband, Who Jumped From Hospital Window

Mrs. H. H. Fudge, formerly of 11 Simpson street, widow of the slain man, who committed suicide on April 18 by jumping from a third story window at the Grady hospital, has filed a claim against the city for $20,000 damages.

Mrs. Fudge, whose claim was filed with the city clerk on Wednesday by Attorney T. H. Higdon, alleges that the municipal authorities were grossly negligent in allowing Fudge to remain in the hospital room unguarded, while he was delirious. She asserts that her husband had been delirious several days, having entered the hospital on April 14, and that the authorities knew that he would harm himself if left alone, and consequently assigned a nurse to guard him night and day.

The nurse was negligent of her duty, the petition asserts, and left him alone in the room with the result that he hurled himself to the pavement below.

Fudge was taken to the hospital with out her knowledge or consent, the widow declares, and at first was put in a ward on the second floor, where it was practically impossible for him to hurt himself, but was later moved, also without the authorities consulting her.

She asserts that Fudge had been employed by the A. Mendelson company for fourteen years, and was making a salary of $25 per month and his expenses, and at first was put in a ward on the second floor, where it was practically impossible for him to hurt himself, but was later moved, also without the authorities consulting her.

Fudge was taken to the hospital after he had attempted suicide by stabbing himself in the breast at the Terminal station.

Same Express Wagon Hit by
Two Machines Within Few

CHICAGO, May 27.—A man and woman were killed and another man was probably fatally injured today when two motorcycles dashed into a loaded express wagon. The riders were Edward Bork and Marie Kierman. Both were killed, and Kierman is not expected to live. Marie's sister, riding with another man, was saved when they saw the lantern of the wagon driver, who was returning to his horse unaware that a second machine had run into his vehicle in the dark.

Roosevelt Talks Politics, But Not Presidential Kind

Doors Not Closed, However, for 1916 Campaign—Takes
More Interest in Dormouse
Than Republican

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Colonel Roosevelt has not closed the doors against a double-barreled presidential nomination in 1916 by anything he has said to Washington yesterday. He declined to discuss presidential politics with anybody.

Only one attempt was made to draw him out on the subject. This was made by two Republican members of congress who followed him from the union station to the national museum apparently for that purpose. They were Messrs. Latham and William C. Carter, both of the colonel's own state.

Following him from spot to spot in the museum, they finally reached the dormouse side as he stood alone for a moment midway between the mounted specimens of the serval cat and the African cheetah. It seemed a propitious moment for the serval cat and the African cheetah. It seemed a propitious moment for the serval cat and the African cheetah.

The museum was so full of people as it would hold, but he was alone for a reserved spot with the two Republicans. "By George I am glad to see you," he said, and then he turned to the colonel and broke in on his speech.

For some crowd surrounding the group appeared to sense the situation. The colonel, however, seemed to have surprised the every dormouse if he had not been so interested in the dormouse. He seemed to have surprised the every dormouse if he had not been so interested in the dormouse.

There will be held a meeting in a few days to arrange for the prices and final details of the picnic at Piedmont park, which will be on the first of the half holidays, Wednesday, June 10.

After a pause, during which no questions were propounded, he said:

"No questions are asked me to make."

APPLY SULPHUR IF SKIN BREAKS OUT SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA USE LIKE COLD CREAM TO STOP ITCHING

Any breaking out or irritation on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He informs us that bold-sulphur cream will take the place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections.

While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subside the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away, and it is often used later before any eruption again appears.

Those troubled with itching skin, who apply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream, it isn't unpleasant, but the prompt relief afforded, particularly in itching Eczema, proves very welcome.

Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections.

HINDUS DARE BRITISH TO KEEP THEM OUT

(By Associated Press.)
VANCOUVER, May 27.—The steamship Komatiks, on which Captain Singh, a wealthy Hindu, arrived last week with 250 of his countrymen, brought at his expense, still is detained in the harbor. The Hindus demand admission as British subjects.

We are British subjects," said Singh, "and if you dare think of the consequences to the first ship coming in India. There are many thousands who are watching our action here and will come if we get in. Many of them are trained farmers, as are those now here."

Manifesting again that the lid of the strong-box will not stay shut, regardless of the committee's repeated demand that the fund be closed, T. K. Glenn sent $5 to be put in it Wednesday morning.

"I've been out of town," he said.

Colors That Make Women Look Young

It is a natural and laudable ambition for a woman to wish to preserve her youth as long as possible. Now, she cannot do this by dressing unsuitably, using make-up or behaving in a kitchen manner, or even by telling untruths about her age. She only makes herself ridiculous and people mentally put her down as five or six years older than she really is, which, after all her efforts, is rather a tragedy, but fortunately she does not know this. If she deceives no one but herself she does the last very thoroughly.

Among all the schemes for putting back the clock of time there is none more successful than that of knowing exactly the right colors to wear next to the face. Why will a certain type of woman with sandy hair and complexion, inclined to be pallid, insist on dressing herself in every yellow and orange of every particle of color and make her look ancient even if she is but twenty-five?

Now if the same woman had remembered that gray was what is called a cold color, and that it added time in her complexion to make it become, she would never have worn it. It is unrelieved by white or soft pink. If with her gray tailor suit she had worn a white shirt waist with one of the new mullin collars and a hat with a touch of color, she would have looked like a different woman.

But even a white shirt or red collar cannot be taken. It is the soft, rather dull pink of the rose pink, or the "salmon pink" that gives a touch of color to a pale face and apparently takes off five or six years. And so also with red; do not get too vivid a scarlet, but rather a rich, warm red.

The woman inclined to be stout will look younger if she will select dark colors for her gowns, but have the trimmings and narrow veils of a soft shade of some color that she knows to be becoming. If in her younger days baby-blue was her color, let her choose now one of the rarest shades. White and cream shades near the face are becoming to almost every one.—Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

CHICAGO BIENNIAL TO PLAN GENERAL DRESS REFORM

At the time of the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Chicago, June 9-15, there will be a conference upon the "Relation of the Club to the Community," at which a resolution will be presented concerning the subject of "dress."

Mrs. Mary I. Wood, of Portsmouth, N. H., head of the bureau of information, has written the following letter to all presidents of clubs affiliated with the general federation:

"Over and over again, especially during the past twelve months, the subject of dress has been brought to my attention. Women have written to me both personally and as managers of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, complaining that they were unable any longer to buy skirts which did not hinder locomotion; men have stopped on the street to call to my attention some particularly noticeable costume, and have asked if there was not something that could be done about it; social workers have discussed in my presence the effect which dress had upon morals; advocates of the dance have urged that proper dressing would go far toward overcoming the evils of the grog, and these and many others have brought the matter to my attention, and each and all with the request that the club women take some action in the matter."

"Influenced by these things, and moved by my own observation, I am led to ask myself and the club women at large if the matter is not one in which we are vitally concerned?"

"Whereas, The General Federation of Women's Clubs, in convention assembled, view with disapproval the present state of fashion among American women to follow designs in dress, regardless of beauty, comfort and modesty."

"Whereas, These objectionable designs, in women's clothes emanate largely, if not entirely, from foreign houses; and that such is the case."

"Whereas, This constant patronage of foreign designs and foreign materials hinders a normal development of American art and manufacture; be it therefore

"Resolved, That this convention, in full recognition of the rights and privileges of the individual, places itself on record as heartily in favor of the movement for simpler, more becoming and more modest designs in women's all clubs and club women of the federation, in a concrete effort to adopt styles in dress adapted to American needs, and encourage American designers and manufacturers."

Important Meeting of the City Federation

The City Federation of Women's clubs will hold an all-day meeting Friday at the Atlanta Woman's Club. A large number of club women will be in attendance. The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock and will close at 4 in the afternoon.

Every member of a federated club in Atlanta is invited to be present. Chairmen are requested to write their reports.

Each member is urged to bring a small sum of money to contribute to the social features of the day. The social features of the day will be attractive and an opportunity given coworkers in club activities to meet.

LITTLE PAL--HE DOESN'T WANT TO KNOW WHAT FEAR MEANS

-BY LEO

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

YES, WE'D RISK IT. (In my opinion Washington, Detroit and Boston are the class of the American League.—The Hon. C. Griffith.)

I have no hopes of reaching heights that Old Doc Homer knew I rather fancy at my best that Griffith toys no, but in the scramble up and down, amid the hectic buzz, I only wish that I lacked class—like Connie Mack's team does.

I'm not a Shakespeare—and who knows?—perhaps I'll never be. And I'll admit that Byron had a feeble shade on me. But in the daily grip for fame I'll risk the writer's attacks To a second rarer—like that club of Connie Mack's.

We cheerfully submit to the theory that Washington, Detroit and Boston have nothing good ball clubs. They all have a chance to stop up and take a shot at the flag. But at the same time we have a faint, hazy idea lurking in our brain that somewhere, at some period in our life, we have seen worse ball clubs than the Athletics. They may not be the class in skill or fashionable chic-tchat, but at times they are the very dickens out there on the ball field.

NOW FOR THE POLO ROUND-UP. England, in the international count, has slipped at 2 to 1, with the polo embargo next upon the program. Judging from all the raucous rattle and the bitter tears and unnumbered wallings that have risen in 6 Britain over her polo assignment, America here would appear to have an easy mark—a mere jaunt to even up the count. But these hard luck stories always leave us in a suspicious frame of mind. We'd better allow America's chances if England was bubbling over with buoyant confidence. Last June America's Big Four were all battered and dispirited and England had a pipe. But you remember what happened.

PICKING ON FRANCE. America's golfing contention, having been repulsed and dispersed in England, are now trying to pick France. A French golf swap is not nearly so highly prized a trophy as an English forelock, but it is better than no scalp at all.

Even here England may present a styrm, for she will send down a number of her most eminent people to work the Monroe doctrine from the European angle. The most interesting feature of the French championship will be in witnessing how far Travers and Outint can return to old form—and just how far "Click" Evans can go when they quit shooting 3's against him.

THE PIRATE STATURE. Pittsburgh's case still remains as outlined at previous times in these dispatches—namely, her ability to curb New York. The Pirates have traveled at a wilder clip against every other contender east and west. They moved swiftly before the Giants arrived and they continued this pace after the Giants left town. But until they can begin harpooning the Giants in a few vulnerable spots the odds will be just a bit steep.

QUOTING SHAKESPEARE. On Murphy and the present Cub attendance: "The evil that men do lives after them."

Outint and Travers: "O what a base was that, my countrymen." "What with reading about two-base hits and mashie shots and uppercuts in your column," complains a reader, "I get all mixed up. Why not stick to one subject and give that full play?"

On the other hand, with so many things going on, why not move around them all? Besides, we always were a tramp at heart and get restless sticking to one shift.

We hardly know what to do about B. L. T. Now he says that Walter J. Travis was all wrong in stating that wood and iron form two widely different styles of shoes. B. L. T. says they are played in about the same way. He may be right. But when Travis makes a statement on golf we are weak-willed and spineless enough to figure there must be something in it without giving the matter much more thought.

What the Old Man doesn't know about golf could be written in front page Hearst type upon a postage stamp.

THE FRAGILE ATHLETE. There has been a great reason for fragility and otherwise dismantled athletes. The earnest athlete is a good bit like a vase. The more valuable he is the more fragile he becomes.

Just why baseball is so much harder on the human system than it was twenty or twenty-five years ago is beyond us. But where one ball player was crippled in the old days about twenty-five are punctured now. And in the old days there were few training trips to condition a club and few trainers around to look after its physical welfare. There must be an end, but for the moment it is beyond our ken. All we can point to is the record.

It was a terrible shock to eastern pitchers and catchers when Ty Cobb went home to have his ribs adjusted. They all like to get a shot at Ty—just as you and I like to take poison or to jump in under a train.

The Reds are reported to be losing money, but why introduce the sordid elements of commercialism into sport?

Cleveland's luck is improving. The Naps now have only five or six ball players in the hospital, while generally by this time they are lucky if even the bat boy doesn't develop a charley horse or a stone bruise.

It is reported from Cincinnati that Mr. Taft would still refuse $800,000 for the Cubs. And we'd probably poison or shoot any editor who only offered us $5,000 for a piece of verse.

Champion Is Outpointed in All but Two Rounds, Ritchie Bleeding Profusely at End

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27.—Charlie White, of Chicago, decisively defeated Willie Ritchie, of California, in a ten-round boxing bout here Tuesday night. White outpointed the westerner in all but two of the rounds.

The bout was vicious and bloody at all times, with Ritchie bleeding profusely from the face and nose. His eyes were nearly closed at the end and he was a sorry looking champion long before the bout ended. White tied some of the ropes for the first time at the end.

White took the lead in the first and second rounds. The California champion showed up, however, and Ritchie came back and took the lead in the second and third rounds.

The remainder of the battle was White's except the seventh and tenth periods, which were even. The battle was one of the hardest ever seen here. Ritchie was hurt when he was against a hard boy early in the fight and did most of the hurting in, but always came back with hard left jab to the jaw.

White fought by far the cleaner battle. His judgment of distance was better and his left's side face and rights to the body were too much for the champion.

Ritchie used a left swing repeatedly but frequently missed, and then was forced to clinch. Twice Referee Harry Stunt wrestled the defeated man's hands from the ropes while in clinches.

HASKING PITCHES No-Game

LOUGHLINVILLE, Ga., May 27.—The Louisville baseball team defeated the Villa Rica club here 2 to 1. Hasking, pitching for Villa Rica, shut his opponents out without a hit. Craton and Johnson featured the game with their brilliant fielding.

EVANS AS A COMEDIAN. BY FULLERTON.

Steve Evans, the comedian of the St. Louis club, is strong in his humor. During the baseball game around the world Steve had fun with a lot of people, some of whom do not know yet what he was doing. In a common hotel lobby two English gentlemen of the most pronounced type occupied a sofa, earnestly discussing the most pronounced type occupied a sofa, earnestly discussing the most pronounced type occupied a sofa. Steve sighted them, strolled over and took his seat on the sofa. They moved slightly and edged closer and "rehearsed."

"I beg pardon, gentlemen. Am I intruding upon a private conversation?"

"Not at all, not at all," one of them lied politely.

"In that event," remarked Steve calmly, "he be arrested and don't care to hear it." And he strolled away.

Yale Abandons English Rigged Shell

The $30,000 Battery

Lewis 66 Rye

WHEN Barney Dreyfus gave $22,500 to the St. Paul Club of the American Association for the release of pitcher Marty J. While it looked yesterday and the day before that we would have improved weather, I thought it advisable to look on, but as conditions are growing worse in the west, it is that much higher, there will be reached before any setback of consequence can come. News from the belt is very bullish also. We rains in the eastern belt now which would be beneficial, it would be hard to offset the damage already sustained in the eastern belt.
